

On the deck: Performing a floor event, Isabella Tolometti. Photograph courtesy of Scottish Gymnastics.

Gold for Garioch gymnast at Scottish Championships

GARIOCH gymnast Isabella Tolometti took home a gold medal at the Scottish National Artistic Championships in Perth on Sunday.

In front of a sell-out crowd, Isabella paraded to the top prize on the Asymmetric Bars event in the apparatus finals, also winning a bronze on the floor.

This came after she just missed out on an all-around medal in the senior women during the Saturday meeting with a WAG senior individual ranking of 44.9.

She scored 12.0 on the A-Bars and 11.5 on the floor, only narrowly cancelled out for a bronze medal in the beam event.

Also involved from Garioch was Brooke Masson, who finished 12th in the WAG Espoir Individual rankings and the 9th-placed Erin Fraser in the WAG Junior Individual rankings.

Over 100 gymnasts took part in the two-day event which was part of the Team Scotland series which showcases some of the home-based athletes from the 2014 Commonwealth Games.

Scotland saw two new champions with Kelvin Cham and Shannon Archer taking the overall men's and women's all-around senior titles respectively.